Comments about Xploderz Night Fighterz Gen-700 Blaster:

My son won this by selling popcorn for cub scouts. The only issue, other than it is a gun, that I have is that when you run out of ammo and you need to make more (which is cool), it takes 4 hours to make more. And, if it dehydrates or is sticky before they go to play, you have to rehydrate again for 45 mins, which to a child with adhd or impatience issues is like an eternity. It is cool that the ammo disintegrates when it hits stuff, so there is very little mess to clean up and the glow in the dark feature makes it fun for them to take into the dark basement and have a blast. Maybe it will be the next big thing like lazer tag! wish the ammo refills were not so expensive, too.
